The 18 promises of the Trivikram

By the grace of the Dattaguru I am all-competent promp
To the shraddhavaan, at all times, I will extend support ||1||

I will help you, for sure I will
But to the Tri-Naath alone, are My ways, My means known ||2||

Have no doubt about this fact, none whatsoever
May peril strike ambushed; you, I will salvage; forlorn and in tribulation I will not leave you ever ||3||

In the life of a bhakta so loving
For sins I do not keep looking at all ||4||

My glance, just the one
Will render the bhakta cleansed of sin ||5||

The one (he) who reposes in Me trust, full, unshakeable
His mistakes I will mend and set right for certain ||6||

Also, the one (he) who causes my bhakta pain and suffering
Him I will punish, yes I will certainly. ||7||

My bhaktas' fate, any, of any kind be it
I will change it, I will break it, wall it in I will. ||8||

Without breach of the Jagdamba's laws of course
Lifting you out of misery, I will reveal to you, paths of beauty incredible

I am forever your God rising (rising eternal)
I will never set, your fate I will temper ||10||

In full faith pledge, offer the sacred vow, offer bhakti, toil, sweat
In accordance with your faith My grace, your blissful abode I am always
||11||

Of all the paths that be, it is bhakti that is dear to me
Your birth-life-death in vain will never be ||12||

He who, in loving surrender sings the gajar
Joy will fill his life, boundless, beyond measure ||13||

Who can stop you from offering Me your bhakti, who at all?
Be he full with desire and fury, My name will tide over My bhakta ||14||

My name in love who sings from the heart, his every wish I will fulfill
His home I will enrich, with peace and contentment I will fill ||15||

When focussed on My feet is resolute, unflinching
Perils and calamities flee in fear, innumerable they be ||16||

The true bhakta's dwelling is within My two feet,
My third will stamp, trample your perils, calamities ||17||

Wherever bhakti, complete faith and love
It is I, the Doer Trivikram ||18||
